

day 2

We woke up a little bit too early, taking into account the time we went to bed the day before...But during the day all the participants have played many "get-to-know-each-other games"....And in the evening we could enjoy a very "singing" campfire....